

Introducing... The village

SB.

I've already talked abt this a bit but SB/Laurel is like, never S/S, and despite appearance of active-filler SB. has maintained a demeanor of actively solving in all interactions with flipped scum.

Made several sustained & forthright efforts to organize town; has been v visibly solving in thread. Importantly, AG tried to CW on him around the time people were entertaining the thought of defecting from Psy to AG.

Vizh

Idt the no-vote stuff DI is some weird scum gambit, or if it is i don't see the wolf POV in breaking it the way they did. Was also chainsawed p heavily by Aura.

tibblez

Genuinely think his thread entrance & herovotes are in keeping w/ expected v!TBZ behavior; would add that there was a point DI where laurel had plur & AG was voting him – TBZ throws a vanity vote on eli that looks utterly detached from either flipped wolf. Pls do not tinfoil TBZ here imo he is Just Town.

OJ

Mentioned the stuff about Aura hitching a ride on OJ's push against hal; i HATE the lolcatting but i also don't think he's really posted anything suggestive of TMI. Am maybe nervous about some of the D2 AtE-ing with laurel, but we can talk through any doubts there.

CaffBo

Overall solid thread presence; was pushed by flipped scum at times when they would've been looking for viable alternatives (see aura's "top investigative priorities" or whatever). A lot of straightforward townsiding behaviors.

laurel

I've already talked abt this a bit but i'm like p convinced that laurel spews SB town in #1011, and just though general attitude between the slots. Would add that i'm genuinely unsure if his kill on rea was bc rea was uniTRed/IC, or if it was pre-empting the "I would never kill someone hard TRing me" stuff - might point to something about team composition.

Hal p blatantly vill off of aura interactions, would add that if anyone is shaky on caff, there's some unpartnered stuff around the time AG omguses Psy to secure the CW. Deeply unsure what to do about LS - Z120 feels gross but could very well be a pocket attempt on unsuspecting town.

EOD1 Thoughts

Still chewing my way through the whole Psy/hal/AG situation & the attempted shift on shadowpea.

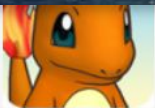

Can say for sure that hal & are both town, but am still a bit concerned that for the longest time to prior to either wagon swelling, shadowpea wasn't really getting much attn - the pop-in from HH where he'd been unsure where to place his vote, then suddenly joins in the shadowpea wagon is Not Great.

EOD2 Thoughts

First of all, fuuuuuuuuuUu uuUUuUUuUUuUUuUUuUUu ck wagonbombs. Main takeaways are obviously that threadstate was Not in fact DADV but a reaction to laurel being outed. I think it can be tempting to take the hasty vote on TBZ as a distancing attempt, but i think the timing of the wagonbomb and TBZ's prior BP claim make it more likely a play at maximizing vill deaths in the absence of a strongman.

In light of laurel being outed it's also worth mentioning imo that LS/shadow's EOD votes aren't at all clearing.

i believe i voted aura guardian 5 times yesterday despite one and probably two screaming town counterwagons if anyone has an issue please let me know so i can flame you

schia

i think just very town yea

apricity

not at 100% confidence but pretty close, obv yesterday was on paper an awful look but i will not be around to tell you guys to clear it up so heres just a few gamestate reasons

1. wagons were probably t/t/s given how voting aura guardian was like pulling teeth
2. absolutely does hal not let aura guardian play like whatever the hell that was, nor does he let himself get almost voted out the way he almost did by eod need to sort, in roughly descending order of towniness to scumminess:

caffbo (thread presence likely town, content is whatever but it's caffbo so like we know this) tbz (unironically i think he would be playing a lot more as scum) hydro (yes hydro is before everyone else above imo, awful eod popin, awful vote on shadowpea, too scared to get in thread, one of the aura townreaders somehow lol) laurel (godawful eod and worldview if this is s: shadowpea/apricity/caff are instant cleared ftr)

So, CaffeineBoost is also on my top investigation list, before the Psy list. Basically the Vizh Earliest thing is calling out Laurel for activity, then calling him out for stopping after being called out. Asks for flavor confirmations by sheathing and then re-drawing [mine is 1 billion lions, joking]. Then calls out Laurel for coming back after getting called out again.
Has the Dagger of Time, which I assume was him sheathing then drawing immediately.
Argues with master oden about distancing from Vizh. Calls out Schia and Nuxl for hopping on the apricity wagon that apricity started (presumably as a joke).

Conclusion: Leaning town. Makes me a bit sus of Vizh, Schia, and Nuxl, who are on my list for looking into.

Here's my reads on two more: Thunder~BALLZ and Candelia. town. Probably not random there; more likely placed in a position to do the minimum harm by idling.

In order of urgency.

If I'm misclearing anyone, it's probably OJ, but I think these names make for a good starting point.

I'm at work for the first quarter of the phase, but otherwise I'm around.
